

Charlie

"I love spending time with my family.
Their happiness is my happiness."

Age: 50
Work: Freelance Web Developer
Family: Single, siblings, parents
Location: North Carolina

Personality

- Patient
- Loyal
- Loving
- Intelligent

Goals

- Keep his parents safe and healthy.
- Provide a meaningful, happy, and fun life for his parents.
- Create happy family memories.
- Keep his parents at home, not in a nursing home.
- Help at his church.

Frustrations

- Not having anyone to help with his parents when he has to be away from home.
- He gets interrupted frequently throughout the day when he is trying to work.
- It's challenging always being responsible for 2 aging adults, without help.
- He's tired.

Bio

Charlie is a freelance web developer. This allows him to work from home which is perfect as he cares for both of his parents, who live with him. Both of his parents have had serious health issues. He is thoroughly involved with their appointments, medications, and treatment.

Charlie spends his days working from his home office. He gets interrupted frequently by his parents. He also stops frequently to check on them. He tries to stay focused between interruptions, but his days get very long making up for lost time. He generally works late into the night, after his parents are asleep.

Behaviors

Needs

Family Member Issues

